

Grassroots community organization seeks creative media and outreach intern

Commonwealth Center for Change is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization committed to facilitating a network of mutual support and collaboration that sustains and strengthens a dynamic creative community. We do this by creating opportunities for people to come together and share resources.

We want your help to imagine and implement creative ways to document our programs and events through web, video, image and print. Lo-fi print makers and zine artists as well as tech-savvy bloggers & youtubers are encouraged to apply. This is an excellent position for students with graphic design skills interested in documentation, journalism, or marketing.

Responsibilities will include:

- Imagining and implementing awesome ways to document and disseminate what we do (with the support of C3 staff and interns)
- Writing press releases and web copy for art exhibits and community programming
- Keeping our web presence engaging and up to date
- Documenting meetings, events and exhibitions through writing, still photography and video.
- Complete NCTV camera training or provide proof of equivalent experience.

Requirements:

- Excellent writing skills
- Basic knowledge of Photoshop and Illustrator
- Comfortable with Facebook and other web tools
- Available to attend meetings and events in Downtown Northampton

Hours:

- 5-10 hrs/wk

To apply:

Submit:

Cover letter

Writing sample

Resume

To:

Julia Handschuh, Co-Director

julia@commonwealthcenter.org

Commonwealth Center for Change

126 Main St.

Northampton Ma 01060